Parade & fair: a success

Saturday's annual 'Community Day Parade' drew natives and visitors, and marched the way to the city's riverfront for the 'Neighbors Fair' -- with its music, food and entertainment. The parade followed a West Capitol Avenue route, and the fair centered at River Walk Park north of the Tower Bridge. Above are members of the prize-winning float by the James Marshall Parent Nursery School.

Cement plant gets approval at Port of Sacto

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

The Port of Sacramento on Monday approved an environmental report and removed a major hurdle to the construction of a new cement handling facility at the port's terminals. Port staffers and consultants have said that cement could be a key new cargo to help turn around the port's economic future.

West Sacramento Mayor Christopher Cabaldon, a member of the port's governing board, said that the proposal from A&A Cement wouldn't result in cement dust escaping from the closed cargo facility. Instead, he said, the air quality challenged would be the same as they would from any other cargo.

"You could be shipping 'Beanie Babies' and you'd get the same (environmental impact report)," said Cabaldon. "It's all about the cumulative impacts of trucks and ships."

He added that the report's approval was linked to future implementation of a Port of Sacramento plan to control problems like exhaust from truck, ship and tugboat engines. The plan could have a number of facets.

"The report does require some management of the time of day that trucks will arrive," said Cabaldon. "You have to try to prevent queing, which results in truck engines idling."

And another change, he said, might help present highly-polluting ship engines from running around the clock while ships were docked in West Sacramento.

"When ships come into the port now, they operate on their own power at the dock. They're running their own engines to generate it. Compared to trucks and cars, they're worse (polluters)."

But the port may eventually be able to provide electricity to the systems of visiting ships, "so the ships just plug in to dockside power," said Cabaldon.

The A&A Cement proposal has been opposed by the WSQUAD (West Sacramento Quality Urbanization and Development Group), concerned about resulting pollution. It has been championed by local labor unions hoping to preserve their jobs at the ailing port.

The port's plans to "go green" are separate from the cement proposal.

More density, more open space

Smaller 'agricultural' land parcels have become attractive to subdividers during the home boom -- leading to an erosion of rural open space in West Sac's 'Southport' region

The West Sacramento City Council tonight will again tackle the issue of how to preserve open space areas between the new "villages" of the city's southland.

The council will revisit the city's "urban separator" proposal, which has offered incentives to people developing the large "rural estates" lots in areas such as Marshall Road, Bevan Road Davis Road. The incentives have offered owners a chance to develop a little more of their land if they will put the resulting new homes close together – and leave a wide "outer ring" of undeveloped property and wildlife habitat.

So far, no one has taken the city up on the existing incentives to "cluster" their new subdivisions. Meanwhile, a housing boom has led to a rapid rate of rural subdividing and a reduction of open space in these inter-village buffer areas. Many of the "rural estates" landowners have lot sizes of five acres or more, and may subdivide as long as the new lots remain at least 2.5 acres each.

"The (Southport Framework Plan) notion of preserving rural buffers between Southport villages isn't working – not because of the encroachment of neighboring big developers, but because the rural property is being subdivided," explained Mayor Christopher Cabaldon yesterday. "The conversion of rural land to homes is happening quickly and there are very few controls. Most folks have a vested right to do that."

Cabaldon said he and the city don't want to take away that right, but does want to try to keep some open spaces.

"If you have a parcel being broken into ten parcels," he suggested, "we want to try to put the homes close together, possibly on a cul de sac. The incentive would be that you could get a little bit more developable value out of the land. Before, for example, you have gotten four lots out of your land. Under this proposal, you might get five (if you accept the "clustering" requirements)."

City staff have said their interviews have found that previous landowners who have subdivided large-lot land in the south have opted out of the "clustering" incentives because they felt that incentives weren't strong enough and restrictions were too onerous. The new proposal might allow, for example, more square footage to be developed while staying consistent with "clustering."

Irene Eklund, a member of the "Save Our City" group that has been active in opposing plans that add housing lots to the Southport area, said her group isn't fighting this proposal.

"I don't think our group has a stand on it one way or another," she said. "As long as it's not mandatory, and it is strictly voluntary, we don't have a problem."

Golden reunion —

James Marshall High School managed to pull 32 members of its 72-member Class of 1955 graduating class together on Sept. 24 for a 50-year reunion held at West Sacramento's Club Pheasant restaurant.

The school was located at the current site of River City High School's campus.

The reunion was organized by Bev Cox and Anita Dunn.

The region's barbecue rib chefs converged on Raley Field from Sept. 23-25 for the third annual "Rhythm & Ribs" event. On behalf of the City of West Sacramento, Mayor Christopher Cabaldon (right) awarded the "Bone Appetit" award for barbecue to the "Outlaw BBQ Company," represented by Steve McGraw. Cabaldon's judging team included Fire Marshal Eric Edgar, Police Chief Dan Drummond and Interim Public Works Director Greg Fabun.

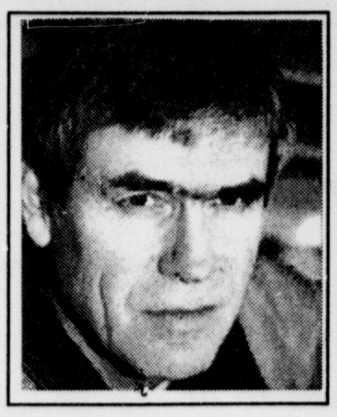
The mechanically-challenged male

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

Note: I spent much of the past week slaving away at home on such exciting projects as putting up new kitchen blinds, replacing ancient screen doors, and installing a new toilet. Of course none of this went smoothly -- in fact I am now on a first name basis with the lady who handles the "return counter" at Home Depot -- and I am reminded of the following column, which first appeared in the News-Ledger more than a decade ago:

A few months ago, I decided to drop off one of my favorite books for a friend to read. She lives out in the country, and as I pulled into her driveway, I couldn't help but notice that the house itself was being guarded by a huge, obviously over-protective dog who looked to be a mix between a skinny-legged Great Dane and a dull-colored Palomino pony. As the barking animal, who appeared to be foaming from the mouth (although I later learned that he more or less always looks that way) began to lope towards my truck, I put on my brakes and quickly checked to make sure my window was tightly rolled up.

"Nice little doggie," I said, cracking the window just enough to make sure his massive head couldn't get inside the car. "Now go away before I run over you," I added under my breath.

The dog, who I'll call Fang, growled and barked even louder, energetically slimed the side of my just washed and waxed truck, and then decided to turn his attention to my front left tire. I rolled my window down just far enough to see exactly what he was up to, and sure enough, the crazy thing seemed to be intent on eating my tire. Positive that no dog, not even one the size of Fang, could actually harm a Firestone 225/70R14 truck tire, I put the car in gear and carefully began to make my way to where another vehicle was parked.

That's actually kind of cute, I thought to myself as I looked out my window and watched Fang, who apparently wasn't very bright, continue to try to take a bite out of my slowly rolling tire.

"Stop that!" yelled my friend at her dog as she stepped off her porch and began to make her way towards my truck. "He's never done that before," she assured me as she grabbed a handful of Fang's ample neck skin and yanked him away from my poor tire. "Now sit and behave yourself," she ordered the suddenly meek dog. "Daryl is going to think you don't have any manners at all."

"Oh, he didn't hurt anything," I said as I waved hello and worked up the courage to get out of the truck."

"What's that funny hissing noise I hear?" she suddenly asked me, looking all around.

We both strained our ears for a few seconds and then at the exact same moment realized that what we were hearing was the unmistakable whistling sound of air escaping from a punctured tire.

"I'm so sorry," apologized my friend as we both bent down and examined the half-dozen or so deep puncture wounds in my tire. "I'll call Triple A. They can be out here in about twenty minutes."

"Are you kidding?" I said with a manly chuckle. "No problem! I can fix it."

"But everybody is always telling me how, well, you know, how you're not very mechanical."

"Oh, everyone really exaggerates that," I assured her, waving away her concerns with my hand. "Any guy can fix a flat tire."

About thirty minutes later, after I had, in the following order, finally found the right key to open the lock on my spare tire; figured out how to make the jack that came with the truck actually work; given myself a hernia loosening the lug nuts; unsuccessfully attempted to jack up my front door instead of the axle connected to my tire; and silently cussed out the idiots in Detroit who decided to hide and secure spare tires underneath trucks in such a way that no mortal man can get them out, my friend bent down next to me and very politely asked, "Do you happen to have a driver's manual?"

"It's in the glove box," I finally said as Fang plopped down beside me on the dusty driveway and began drooling all over my shoes.

"Okay," said my friend cheerfully, "here it is, page 190 -- how to change your Ford Ranger tire."

"What's it say?" I mumbled as I swallowed my pride and attempted to swat away another dozen or so of the killer mosquitoes who had taken up residence on my perspiring body.

"This is going to be real easy," she announced with a confident smile. "The steps are numbered, so here we go, step one, finding your Ford Ranger spare tire."

"I've done that," I snapped.

"Okay, step two. Remove bolt with lug wrench, then swing hinge away and lower the channel, remove retaining bolt by inserting the lug wrench through the top of the bolt and turning. Then to replace the tire, reverse procedure and install tire with the valve stem pointed down. Tighten the retaining bolt snugly and test for tire movement by pressing or kicking. Now, have you done any of that yet?"

"Yeah," I said, "I've done the kicking part."

"Here," she said, obviously taking pity on me and lowering her voice as she often does when she's talking to one of her children, "I think I know what they're talking about. I tell you what, why don't you read from the manual, which is, you know, really the important part anyway, and let me get down under there for awhile and see if I can get the tire out?"

Another twenty or so humiliating minutes later, with my tire finally fixed and Fang looking like I had made his day, I stepped back into my truck, knowing full-well that I'd still be sprawled out on the pavement if it hadn't been for my friend's help. "Thanks for dropping off the book," she said, forcing back a smile by putting a grease-covered hand over her mouth.

"Real funny," I said as the laughter she had been choking down for almost an hour finally exploded. "And don't you dare tell anyone about this!" I yelled after her as she and Fang, who seemed to be having a pretty good doggie-chuckle himself, turned and raced back towards the house.

In 1987, Century 21 became part of their success story and the business today is known as Century 21 Koerwitz Realty. Are adjustable rate mortgages (ARM's) still a good loan right now? Well considering that I am a true advocate of adjustables, this at times is a very tough question to answer.

First and foremost, you must be aware of how adjustables work. There are two factors when figuring out your "Fully Indexed Rate" (FIR rate for short), first is the margin and second is the index. The margin is a fixed number and will never change for the life of the loan, and the index, which is usually tide to a number of indicators, like LIBOR (London inter-bank offer rate), 1 year T bills, 6 month T bills, MTA (Monthly treasury average), Prime rate; or many others but these are the most common. When you add the margin and the index together that becomes your (FIR) rate for that month. All Adjustable rate mortgages have annual caps, or a pre-determined Cap rates that the adjustable cannot go beyond. So when determining the history of a particular adjustable rate mortgage you can do some homework.

First research what the average margins have been in any given period, or months, or year, then match that margin with a particular index that you are looking at. You will see that that rate goes up; and then goes down when you add the two together over a period of time. Match that rate up with what the fixed rates were at that time, and again you will see that they are different.

For instance, in January 1995 the average 30-year fixed rates was 9.33%, In January 1995 the MTA was 5.603 and the average margins were 3.125%. So if you ad the index (then) of 5.603% with a 3.125% margin, you would get a fully indexed rate of 8.728%. In this example the adjustable rate was lower than the 30 year fixed rate.

So in closing, by understanding how adjustable rate mortgages work, and you can research what rates have done over the years, you may get a better idea if adjustables are a good idea for your circumstances or may be a bad idea.

If you have further questions about Adjustable Rate Mortgages or any other mortgage question, feel free to call me any time.

SPORTS

SPORTS INSIDER

By Rich Novoa

The two Bay Area baseball teams are officially on vacation, as eight Major League teams begin their quest to the 2005 World Series. The Giants and A's both finished 7 games of the first place in their respective divisions. The Giants, who finished in third place behind Arizona and the division-winning Padres, finished the season with a losing record. The Giants lost 87 games and won only 75 while the A's were on the opposite side of .500 baseball with 88 wins and 74 defeats.

The A's youth movement paid great dividends while the aging Giants decided to go with age before beauty and they paid the price in a very weak division. Mr. Bonds' return to the line up late in September provided a spark in the G-Men's line up but it was much to late. The Giants pitching staff betrayed them all season and will need to be upgraded next season.

Next season the A's are set with a solid young pitching staff and a bunch of young River Cats ready to bust out. The Giants on the other hand will go through major changes with many of their players reaching the magic age of 40.

Major League Playoffs

Picking two World Series teams will be a difficult task this year because the only team that looks like a lock to win the title is the St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards will take care of the Padres in four games and the Braves will lose again to the Astros in five.

In the American league, the title is up for grabs in the best of five playoffs. The Angels will host those darn Yankees and the defending champion Red Sox will travel to Chicago to play the other team that isn't the Cubs.

The Red Sox have the hitting and should win in four games while I smell an upset in Disneyland with Vladimir Guerrero leading the way for the Angels. The Los Angeles Anaheim Angels in five!

NFL Week 5

The 49ers (1-3) took a long siesta during their humiliating loss in Mexico City against the Phoenix Cardinals (1-3). The Niners defense jumped on a quick 14-0 lead in the first quarter against the Cards before a NFL record-breaking crowd of 103,000 Mexican futbolistas in the NFL's first regular season game played on foreign soil.

This week the 49ers return to Monster Park on Sunday (1 p.m.-FOX) with a beat up secondary to host Peyton Manning the Colts! Ouch, the Niners are getting 14 points at home and they don't know which quarterback will be leading their team. Can you believe the 49ers are only one game out of first place in the West? Ok, I'll cut it out.

The Raiders (1-3) needed 4 field goals from Janikowski and a last second goal line stand against Dallas to win their first game of the season. The running game improved but it was the Raiders defense that won the game. I guarantee the Raiders won't lose this weekend! OK, they have a bye and won't play until October 16 at home against San Diego.

Aztec's Pics

The Dawg picked 4 out 5 winners last week to improve his K-nine picks of the week to a respectable 11 wins and 9 losses. My dog is doing better than Chris Berman's picks on ESPN. The Dawg's college lick of the week was a big winner with his cousins from Fresno putting a good 44-14 licking on Toledo. The Bulldogs took a big bite out of Toledo to start the week off with a win.

In the NFL he lost with the Niners but won with the Redskins, Raiders and with the Packers who covered the 7½ points on Monday night. I keep telling this dog of mine to stay away from his 49ers but you know you can't teach and old dog-new tricks.

This week his college lick of the week is his Alma Mater, the San Diego Aztecs (-8) at Las Vegas and in the NFL his ears were standing up for Texans (-2 ½) over Tennessee and he likes the Cowboys (+3 ½) plus the points at home against the birds of Philadelphia. He really doesn't like birds! His upset bark of the week is Da Bears (+3 ½) in Cleveland and Monday night the Chargers (-3) will bury the bone at home against Pittsburgh.

Kings Korner

The Kings training camp opened on Tuesday with 21 players jockeying for 12 positions on the roster. Kings fans should be excited this season with the addition of Bonzi Wells, Abdur-Rahim, and first round draft pick Francisco Garcia. The Kings will be lead by Mike Bibby and enforced on defense by Skinner, Williamson, Thomas and Brad Miller.

The key to the Kings success this season will again fall on the shoulders of Peja Stojakovic and the success of their outside shooting. The Kings will need someone to step up to the three-point line and pick up the slack left by the loss of Mosley and Jackson. The Kings have a couple young players who may fit the role so keep an eye on guards Luis Flores, Jason Hart and Kevin Martin.

Look for the Kings to wear a new Gold and purple jersey this season to compliment the Kings 6th man promotion. The Kings open the preseason on October 11th at the Arco against Dallas.

Boxing

In Florida last Saturday Antonio Traver retained his IBO Title with a unanimous 12-round decision over the once invincible Roy Jones Jr. The fight was OK but on Saturday, Oct. 8th the rematch of the century between Sacramento's Diego Corrales and Mexico's Castillo is on live from the Las Vegas Mack Center.

Castillo had floored Corrales a few times in their last championship fight and appeared to be the unified lightweight champion of the world only to get beaten into submission by a determined Corrales in the same round. This fight should be worth the whole $49.99 to view on PPV but make sure you don't miss the first round!

Enjoy your day – see ya next week!

POLICE LOG

Oct. 1, 2:46 a.m.

A man said his stepdaughter had just called and reported that eight males were trying to rape her. Police responded to the girl's location. At least two juvenile males were cited and released to parents for touching the girl in a sexual manner.

Oct. 1, 12:21 a.m.

A man called police dispatch from West Capitol Avenue. He reported that something was "beeping" in his house, possibly a smoke detector, and he wanted police to find it and stop it. Dispatchers believed he was "very, very" drunk. When police arrived, the 58-year old man was arrested for disorderly conduct.

Oct. 1, 7:37 p.m.

A man stabbed himself. Speaking only Spanish, he asked another person to call 911 for help.

Oct. 2, 12:08 a.m.

A 33-year old woman was contacted by police on Brannan Way after a "hang-up" call was reported to 911. She was arrested on a criminal charge.

Oct. 2, 3:20 a.m.

A Southport woman reported her 15-year old daughter had run away. The girl had gone missing before.

Oct. 2, 4:21 a.m.

On South River Road, a vehicle accident was reported near Babel Slough Road south of the city.

Oct. 2, 4:59 a.m.

A woman reported walking to her car at a Lisbon Avenue location and finding a teenage male inside the vehicle. The suspect fled on foot at her approach.

Oct. 2, 11:39 a.m.

A man reported the theft of his Camaro from the West Capitol adult motel where he was staying. The suspect was another man he had met the same morning at a Watt Avenue adult theater. The suspect had apparently taken the victim's keys from a table at the motel room when the victim was in the bathroom.

Oct. 2, 8:30 a.m.

Police responded to a Sacramento Avenue mobilehome park regarding an argument between a male and a female. The two had dated in the past and had a child together. The man reported that the 35-year old woman had swung at him, injuring his mouth, and he also had scratches on his chest she caused. The woman had also rammed another vehicle while trying to drive away. Police arrested her.

Oct. 2, 7:25 p.m.

An officer responded to a disturbance on North Hobson Avenue and found a 20-year old resident spraypainting cement and windows at the home. Several windows were also broken on a vehicle in the driveway. The man appeared to be under the influence of drugs, and admitted having smoked crystal methamphetamine during the prior night. He was arrested and a urine sample was obtained.

Oct. 2, 2:15 p.m.

A collision was reported at Southport Parkway and Promenade Street. A car had gone over the median and hit a pickup truck.

Oct. 2, 8:27 p.m.

In the north area, a parent said a five-year old girl had reported that, on the prior day at a family social, a 10-year old boy had committed two sex acts with the girl.

Oct. 2, 9:52 p.m.

A woman tried to go in the window of an apartment she had shared with a former boyfriend to retriever her belongings. The man closed the window on her arm. No medical aid was needed. The pair had a nine-month old child together who was in the residence.

Oct. 2, 11:09 p.m.

Near Ramco Street, a security guard reported an abandoned 2004 Toyota Corolla had been parked for a lengthy time. Police determined it was stolen and the car had recent damage to the front end. The car was recovered.

Change needed at WUSD

I am currently a student at California State University, Sacramento and studying to become a teacher. I attended a Washington Unified School Board meeting recently as an assignment for class. As a member of this community, a future teacher, and a taxpaying resident, I just wanted to say that I am very disappointed in our elected members of the board. The elected school board members are supposed to represent the school district's best interests, but seemingly are following their own interests.

Former River City High School principal, Mort Geivett, was moved to Yolo High School during the "blackout" period, two weeks before school was supposed to start. This was following an investigation that proved Mr. Geivett never did anything wrong. No charges have been or will be filed against Mr. Geivett. Ever since he was moved, many community members have spoken on his behalf to try to get him moved back to River City. However, it seems like the school board has special agendas against this principal.

I have been to a few board meetings since this issue began and I cannot recall any public testimony in favor of the board's actions. These community members included not only parents of high school students, but current teachers and office staff at River City High School, former school board members, and business owners.

Our current school board is not representing the school district at all! They are using their power to keep Mr. Geivett from doing what he loves. The high school is now a "ticking time bomb", as stated by many staff members of River City. The safety of the students, including my younger brother, is at risk. These students do not feel safe in a place where they always should. Many students are scared to even attend school, which is very shameful.

Another thing that upset me at the meeting was the fact that every single time a person went up to the podium to speak, the board would either just stare at the person with no expression or they would look at something they had in front of them on their desk. There was a lack of interest from all the board members. It was almost like community members were talking to a brick wall!

Actions by this school board make me scared to become a teacher. I am sure that I speak for many people when I say that some serious changes need to be made in the Washington Unified School District, including, but not limited to, a new superintendent, board members, human resources director, district lawyer, and the transfer of Mort Geivett back to River City High School where be belongs!

No place to park

I have looked forward to this day for a few weeks -- Neighbors Fair at River Walk Park. Happily I got into my vehicle (with the handicapped disabled veteran license plate) and drove to River Walk Park about 12:30 p.m., stopped in front of the parking entrance to the public parking garage, and asked the young lady guarding the entrance where the handicap parking was located (there are a few handicap spaces in the public parking garage).

The young lady informed me she had been told that parking in the garage was only for VIPs on the list of names she had. There was no handicap parking. The young lady apologized. Not her fault.

Not really feeling up to walking from, and back to, the nearest parking spot, I just turned around and went home. So much for the sight seeing, lunch, and visiting with old friends. Makes a person wonder how anybody can screw up such a simple thing as who parks where (or not) for a small event like Neighbors Fair.

Clements responds

I never cease to be amazed at the name-calling some people resort to when they have no reasonable argument to offer. I'm also sorry that apparently a handful of Ledger readers have been offended by my comments reference both Cindy Sheehan and the inherent evil of Islamic terrorists. The facts still remain the same -- peace protests (or as Ms. Ridge writes -- war protests) are absolutely futile and will never bring about any kind of lasting peace when the enemy you're dealing with is inherently evil. An evil enemy loves peace protests that cover up and dismiss their evil! This has been true of every war for the past 100 years (remember the peace advocates of WWI and WWII?) It's a good thing our freedoms are not dependent on peace (or war) protestors.

By the way Ms. Ridge, I happen to hate war (contrary to your accusation), so your extrapolation of the points I was trying to make was sadly in error -- very much like the rest of your comments reference both my views and my ministry. I also never cease to be amazed that people who claim to know so little about the Bible, and are apparently seldom in church (by the way, our pews are very comfortable -- come on out and give them a try), love to quote (or misquote) the Bible. For Ms. Ridge's (and anyone else's) information, the Hebrew word for kill in Ex. 20:13 ("thou shall not kill" -- one of the 10 commandments I've forgotten according to her) is the word ratsach (just one of some ten different Hebrew words in the Old Testament which are translated as kill in our English Bibles), and actually means "to murder/to slay in a violent unjust manner". If this was not so, there could be no just killing in self-defense, no just killing by police, no just killing of an evil enemy, no just killing in protecting your family from rapists or murderers, etc. Anyone who really knows the Bible knows that God in fact requires the killing of evil people who are guilty of various evil crimes (that's how He instructs us to get rid of the evil). God in fact ordered the Israelites on many occasions to do just that with their evil enemies. By the way, one of the reasons we have so much evil running rampant in our society today is because we choose not to obey God in this -- as in so many other matters.

I might also comment on Ms. Ridge's statement about me "pontificating that Islamists are wrong to kill for their deity but Christians are just in killing for their deity". Where did such an absurd statement come from? Not from anything I wrote. Perhaps from something else she's been reading? I would be happy to show her (or anyone else who's seriously interested) scores of articles from the past couple of years reference literally hundreds of Christians in Islamic and communist countries who have been murdered, maimed, imprisoned, raped, disfigured, shot, burned, fired from their jobs, had their families torn apart, etc., simply because they were Christians. Whereas I would like for her (or anyone else) to show me evidence of even one Muslim or communist person who has been attached or brutalized similarly by born-again Christians in a Christian country anywhere. (Please don't bring up the hashed and re-hashed evils of the Catholic church a thousand years ago). The Quran (and other Islamic commentaries) specifically advocate the killing and/or enslavement of all Christians and Jews (infidels) who will not convert to Islam -- whereas the Bible mandates that Christians "love your enemies and do good to them that persecute you".

Ms. Ridge -- come on out and visit our very friendly and loving church -- we'd love to show you that this is true!

Vote "no" on Prop. 75

Talk about irony -- now former House Republican Majority Leader Tom DeLay has been charged by a Texas district attorney with illegally covering up corporate contributions to that state's political races. Under Texas law, it is illegal for corporations to fund political races...seems like such a state law affecting even members of Congress should be a federal law, thus applying to all of our states. Still down in Texas, one must further wonder how Enron's Ken Lay legally financed George W. Bush into the governorship in 1994 and six years later played such a big money role in Bush's controversial 2000 presidential (s)election?

Bush is always preaching that he cares for everybody, especially in light of the two recent hurricanes hitting the gulf states, virtually wiping out the once-happy, below sea level city of New Orleans. But why does he and most Republicans continue to oppose a health care for all program? Roughly one-third of our population has no health insurance. Bush and his friends sadly forget "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

The other half of the irony is that (apparently) no such Texas-type law preventing corporations from funding state political races exist in California and many other states. In fact, come November 8 our special election will ask us to, among other issues, approve Prop. 75, requiring annual approval of public employees and retirees before our leaders can speak out or help finance anything political...but Lewis Uhler's Prop. 75, with its misleading title and support groups' names, seeks to prevent us from speaking out, but no such restriction on corporate money into states' political races...like down in Texas. Maybe Mr. Uhler should help rescue Tom DeLay?

Vote "no" on Prop. 75 on November 8! Remember, public employees serve and protect all of the public.

"The Transporter 2"

Running time: 88 minutes
MPAA rating: PG-13

"Transporter 2" star Jason Statham should be the next James Bond. He's British, looks great in a suit, is an amazing fighter, and he can propel a car at breakneck speeds over any terrain — even through buildings.

OK, Statham doesn't actually do that in real life, but his character, Frank Martin, sure can, and boy-oh-boy is it a hoot to watch.

In "Transporter 2," Martin and his tricked-out Audi A6 are assigned to chauffeur the Drug Enforcement Chief's young son (Hunter Clary) to and from school. An Evil Dude named Gianni (Alessandro Gassman) kidnaps the boy and injects the child with a deadly virus. Gianni's plan is that the boy will infect his father, who will then infect all the bigwigs attending an international anti-drug conference.

Martin races against time to save the boy while evading the police, who think he's in on the crime, and dealing with assorted thugs and an Uzi-toting Lingerie Model.

Sure, it's a goofy plot, but I don't care. The stunts — both automotive and martial-artsy — are such a breathless joy to watch that I just stopped caring about whether the movie made sense or not. Worrying about the plot of "Transporter 2" is like trying to find deeper meaning in a roller coaster. Just enjoy the ride.

The fights were choreographed by Hong Kong movie legend Corey Yuen, who also directed the original Transporter film, and the film was directed by Louis Leterrier, who served as artistic director in the first film. Leterrier does a fantastic job of showing us the action without any artsy-fartsy camera tricks, shaky cams or choppy, quick edits. He lets the action, not the editor, do the talking.

Jason Statham

If you're a fan of great action films and don't want to spend any time thinking about plot, then "The Transporter 2" should definitely be at the top of your Must-See List.

MUSHROOMS ARE AN ITALIAN TRADITION

Mushrooms have been a flavor enhancer in Italian cuisine dating back to ancient Rome and the reign of the Caesars. Today we give you a couple of Italian-style dishes you'll add to your everyday menus.

The Chicken Pizzaiola has the oregano-parsley-tomato flavor that makes pizza so popular. The sausage on polenta is heavily flavored with mushrooms and calls on convenient prepared pasta sauce and instant polenta. If you're used to cooking regular polenta, by all means substitute that.

For a closer look at mushrooms, plus their nutritional value, send for a free copy of "Fresh Mushroom Booklet," care of Lewis & Neale, Inc., 35 E. 21st St., 10th Floor, New York, NY 10010. Or, e-mail your request to Fresh Mushroom Booklet, L-N@mushroominfo.com.

CHICKEN PIZZAIOLA

- 4 (6 to 8 ounces each) boneless chicken breasts
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 6 tablespoons olive oil, divided
- 1 small yellow onion, diced (about 1-1/4 cups)
- 8 ounces white mushrooms, sliced (about 3 cups)
- 1/2 cup white wine
- 1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon dried oregano or 2 teaspoons chopped fresh oregano
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh Italian parsley

Season chicken with salt and pepper. In large skillet, over medium-high heat, heat 2 tablespoons of olive oil. Add chicken and cook until brown on both sides and center is no longer pink, about 15 minutes. Transfer to serving platter and cover to keep warm. To skillet, add remaining 4 tablespoons oil. Add onion; cook and stir until translucent, about 5 minutes. Add mushrooms, increase heat and stir until lightly browned, about 5 minutes longer. Pour in wine and stir to scrape any browned bits from the skillet; add tomato sauce and oregano. Reduce heat to low and simmer, uncovered, until slightly thickened, about 20 minutes. Pour sauce over chicken, sprinkle with parsley and serve. Makes 4 portions.

MUSHROOM AND SAUSAGE RAGU ON SOFT POLENTA

- 1/2 pound (8 ounces) Italian sausage links
- 2 tablespoons water
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1-1/2 pounds mushrooms, sliced (about 5 cups)
- 1-1/2 cups tomato-based pasta sauce
- 1 teaspoon red wine vinegar
- 1/2 cup instant polenta
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

In large (12-inch) skillet, over medium-high heat, combine sausages and 2 tablespoons water. Cook and stir until browned on all sides, about 12 minutes; remove sausages and drain on paper towels. Drain grease; add olive oil to pan; cook mushrooms until lightly browned and liquid has evaporated, about 12 minutes. Cut sausage in 1/4-inch slices; add to skillet with pasta sauce, vinegar and water as needed to thin sauce; reduce heat to low. Simmer until hot, about 5 minutes.

Meanwhile, in large microwaveable bowl, combine polenta and 1 cup water; whisk until smooth. Gradually whisk in 1-1/2 cups water, salt and pepper until smooth.* Microwave on high 4 minutes. Whisk until mixture is well-blended; microwave until smooth, about 4 minutes longer. Serve mushroom and sausage ragu over polenta. Garnish with thinly sliced fresh basil leaves if desired. Makes 4 servings.

*For polenta with a creamy texture, substitute 4-1/2 cups chicken broth and 1 cup milk for the water; omit salt.

Good Housekeeping

Tip: Storing Cookies

Store soft and crisp cookies in separate containers with tight-fitting covers. If stored together, the crisp cookies could soften and the soft cookies could firm up. Crisp cookies that soften can be recrisped in a 300 F oven for three to five minutes. Soft cookies can be kept soft by adding a piece of apple or bread to the container; change it every other day or so. (This technique also works for soft cookies that have hardened.)

You'll find many more baking and storage tips in Good Housekeeping's favorite recipes book, "Bake It!" (Hearst Books, $14.95).

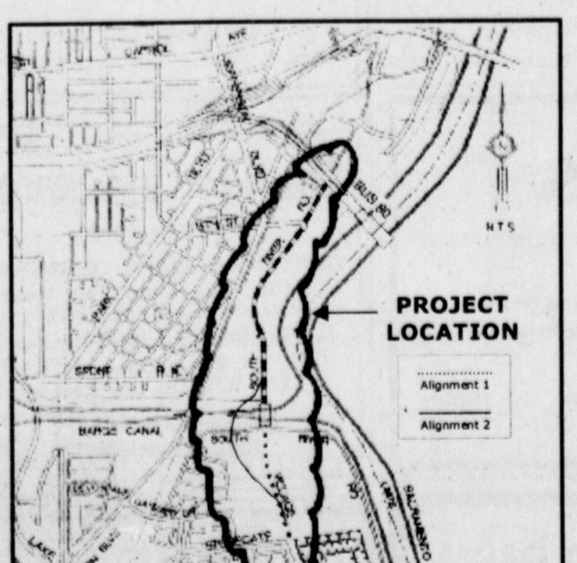
SCOPING MEETING

South River Road Barge Canal Crossing & Village Parkway Extension Project

THE CITY OF WEST SACRAMENTO



The City of West Sacramento is planning the widening of South River Road (from Business 80 to the Yolo Barge Canal), construction of a new barge canal crossing, and the extension of Village Parkway from the present northerly terminus of Village Parkway to the crossing at the canal.

The new four-lane crossing will carry vehicles, bicyclists and pedestrians across the Canal, providing another north-south connection. The City is currently evaluating alternative alignments for the proposed crossing and roadway. The project is identified in the City's General Plan and the Southport Framework Plan as a needed traffic improvement.

The City will hold a public scoping meeting to seek the community's input on the scope of the Environmental Impact Report. Preliminary layouts of the alternatives will be presented and the environmental process will be discussed.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY NOTES

The Sacramento river registered 22 feet 5 inches, U. S. gauge at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday. The gauge last Monday read 23 feet 8 inches, a material increase due entirely to the warm weather of last week which melted the snow in the foothills. River men believe that the down gauge has been reached and that from now on there will be a gradual decline until it reaches low mark about September or October.

Some few salmon were caught during the early part of the past week but not enough to encourage local men to work steadily. The fish being caught are very large and very solid, but the work of netting them does not pay. Later on fishermen believe there will be some good catches when the river recedes to about 15 feet.

Friday, June 16th, has been set as the date for closing of the public school in Washington. Examinations are now going on and the list of promoted pupils will be published in next week's issue of the Independent.

Ross C. Wilson, candidate for County Coroner of Yolo, was around Washington yesterday shaking hands with the voters. Wilson is a campaigner who sits well with the people and feels thoroughly at home with them.

H. M. Eugene and wife are at home from Fallon, Nevada, where they spent 10 days with their daughter.

Professor Case is at his regular work in the Washington public school preparing for the closing exercises. Last week he spent several days in a San Francisco hospital afflicted with acute appendicitis. Special care and expert medical service pulled him through in short order.

Miss King, teacher of the second grade in the public school, has tendered her resignation to the Trustees in expectation of going to Oregon next year. Her place has not yet been filled by the Trustees.

The annual picnic tendered the pupils of the Washington public school will take place next Thursday at McKinley Park in Sacramento. The P. T. A. will do a great deal to make the picnic a success for it will provide transportation, ice cream and prizes for the picnic. Pupils will be expected to bring their lunches. Games have been arranged by the teachers and a baseball game will be played by a team from the local school and a Sacramento school.

Caton Lopez was fined $50.00 last Tuesday by Judge Barry on complaint of his paramour, Mrs. Theresa Lombard. Lopez beat up the woman badly because he believed fer former husband had been visiting her during his absence. They are residents of Sacramento but the assault occurred at this side of the river.

Dick Strong, candidate for District Attorney, spent last Tuesday in Washington building up his political fences. Dick was a candidate on a previous occasion, but was defeated.

Ed Moss and Frank Beale purchased a Ford roadster last Wednesday which they expect to use on a trip of several weeks to the southern part of the State. Beale objected to the roadster because he reasoned that a touring car might come in handy once in a while if they happened to meet up with some chickens. As a matter of fact the boys are going out next Monday for a good time, expecting to go as far south as Tegucigalpa, Mexico. It appears they heard a report some time ago that the girls of Popocatepetl were very beautiful, and Beale persuaded Moss to join with him on the trip of verification. Should they find this to be true they may return to Washington with a couple of brides. Beale says that a roadster can be made to accommodate four when the company is congenial.

George Beale will go to San Francisco next Monday to be present at the festivities around the Shriner convention at the Bay City.

Last Saturday Mrs. L. Keenright was married in Sacramento to Fred Moss of Grass Valley, by Judge O'Brien of Sacramento. After closing of the school they will go on their honeymoon to Dillons Beach and subsequently will make their home in Grass Valley, where a cottage has already been furnished by the groom.

Joe Beltrami returned from San Francisco yesterday where he went on a short business trip.

Mrs. F. L. White, Sr., returned from a visit in Berkeley.

Three Washington young men sailed last week from San Francisco on merchant marine vessels for long voyages. They were Erlo Pankost, who left Friday for a trip to Liverpool, and Armand De Prato and Vernon Porter, who will go to Australia. The two latter sailed on Saturday.

Miss Esther Mast was a week-end visitor in San Francisco.

Mrs. J. D. Andrews of Standish, Lassen County, is a guest at the home of Mrs. Clarence Painter.

Mrs. Gerald Clifford went to Chico for a week-end visit with relatives. She returned last Sunday evening.

Miss Thelma Clayton of Oakland and Roger Linder of San Francisco were recent guests at the H. Garber home.

P. Hickson of Los Angeles is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Moser.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sanchez are at home from a visit of several days at Pleasanton.

Will Hines has as his guest his mother, Mrs. W. Hines of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lee, former residents of Bryte, were visitors with friends during the week of the '49 celebration.

CLARKSBURG FERRY IS A BUSY TRANSFER ACROSS RIVER

Woodland, June 6.—The monthly report of the ferrymen of the Clarksburg ferry, filed with the board of supervisors yesterday, indicates that the down the river section of Yolo County is a busy place.

According to the report, 2,194 trips were made, 3,602 passenger autos were transported, 8,778 passengers, 256 trucks with 356 persons, 26 teams with 46 persons, and 597 foot passengers. This is the ferry that Expert Hammon thought might be closed because it was in the "panhandle of the country."

HALEY DROWNED UNDER BARGE BELOW M-STREET BRIDGE

The swirling waters of the Sacramento river claimed Joe Haley, resident of the houseboat on this side, late Sunday afternoon when a rowboat in which Joe and his cousin, Martin Haley, were crossing the swollen stream collided with the river barge Montana, opposite the foot of T Street.

The smaller boat was loaded with driftwood the two men had gathered on the Sacramento side. The heavily burdened boat was unable to stem the swift current and drifted downstream, striking the barge despite all efforts of the two men to guide their skiff to safety.

As the boat struck it capsized, throwing the men out. Caught by the swift current both were carried beneath the barge.

Martin Haley saved himself after being swept under the full length of the barge by grasping the barge rudder as he came to the surface.

Joe Haley, likewise, attempted to grasp the rudder but failed in his reach and was carried away.

Joe Haley was about 35 years old and had resided in the vicinity of Sacramento for a number of years.

The remains have not yet been recovered.

CLARKSBURG VOTERS IMPRESS SUPERVISORS WITH NEED FOR ROAD

Woodland, June 6.—A delegation of fully one hundred men and women descended on the court house yesterday and filled the supervisors room to overflowing. They came with a determination to secure a promise from the board that a concrete road be built from Jefferson Boulevard to Clarksburg. They came fortified with orators, figures and argument why their request should be granted and that a promise be made that the road be made the next piece of construction undertaken. Arguments were made by Messrs. Taylor, Olson, Smith and Bunnell. At times quite a bit of passion developed, but finally all went well. The board did not go on record for the request, but it is understood that in the natural course the roads will be taken care of.

In the argument it developed that in the winter many residents are entirely cut off from the outside, no way to get a doctor or send the children to school. It was stated that a union school is to be established at Clarksburg and it will be necessary to have roads for the use of the children. The matter will be more fully discussed by the members of the board before the budget is made up for next year.

BRYTE FIREMEN PROMISE GOOD TIME AT DANCE

Tomorrow night the firemen of Bryte will give a special dance in the public school building, for the purpose of raising more funds to purchase fire fighting apparatus.

The firemen are anxious to secure a chemical engine and more hose, and since there is no possible way of getting funds to purchase these things except by popular subscription, they adopted this method to help along the cause.

Bryte dances are becoming known all over this end of the county because of the splendid good feeling that prevails at those affairs. A large crowd is expected tomorrow evening and all the political candidates will be on hand to pass the "bull" and become acquainted.

LIQUOR MAY BE FOUND ANYWHERE, EVEN ON BRIDGES

Twelve cases of high grade Canadian liquor valued at approximately $1200 were taken from the automobile of W. M. McDaniels last Tuesday night as the latter was crossing the M Street bridge with the whisky, presumably for distribution in Sacramento. McDaniels was held in the city jail in lieu of bail.

The officers made the capture through a clue obtained earlier in the day. As Mc Daniels was about half way across the bridge they swooped down on him with sawed-off shotguns, ordering him to halt. He offered no resistance.

The liquor was found in the rear of the car in gunny sacks. McDaniels had removed the rear seat in order to obtain more room and had covered the whisky with an old blanket. The booty was taken to the police station and turned over to Chief Bernard McShane as evidence.

Detectives F. McAllister, Lew Vogel and W. W. Hanney made the capture.

The liquor is believed to have been a portion of a shipment brought down the coast recently from Canada, several barrels of which are known to have been unloaded at Half Moon Bay.

TUNNEL FOR ROAD AT RIVERVIEW ASKED BY SUPERVISORS

Woodland, June 6. — Supervisors W. O. Russell, Frank B. Edson and William Leinberger and County Surveyor Asa G. Proctor left this morning for San Francisco to confer with the officials of the San Francisco, Sacramento Electric Company concerning the construction of a highway grade underneath the company's railroad crossings at Riverview, formerly Glides Landing. It is planned to run the highway under the railroads providing better and safer travel. The matter was taken up at a meeting of the board of supervisors yesterday, a resolution being passed urging action in the premises.

Later: The request of the supervisors was taken under consideration by officials of the Sacramento Short Line.

E. TODD HOME NEAR BRYTE LOST IN FIRE

Bryte, June 2. — The E Todd home, about two miles from Bryte, was destroyed yesterday afternoon by fire. It is believed the fire started from a short circuit of electric wires. The two young children of the Todds were rescued from the burning building with difficulty.

None of the contents of the place was saved. The fire was discovered when Mrs. Todd found that an electric iron would not heat, but the flames had gained such headway the house could not be saved.

TOM SNIDER IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Ex-Supervisor Tom Snider has been in serious physical cindition during the past week. He suffered another stroke of paralysis last Monday and for a time his relatives feared for his recovery.

Yesterday he was able to be around his home again, but was suffering greatly. He is under the constant care of physicians and is demanding the entire attendance of his devoted wife.

The new purchasing agent of the City of Sacramento is nabed E. J. Plato.

Wonder is he is a philosopher, too?

In some respects Henry Ford is like a laborer.

His money is burning holes in his pocket.

FROMMELT'S DEATH CAME AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Practically disabled from active participation in the ordinary affairs of life for a period of nearly five years, Hugo Frommelt died last Friday, June 2d, at the age of 75 years.

During 43 years he and his family had been residents of Washington, and as an indication of his popularity, he was elected to serve as Constable four times.

Frommelt was a native of Germany and an artist by vocation, although for many years he followed the trade of decorator.

During 12 years he was employed by the State as inspector on the river and only gave up that place when Hiram Johnson was elected Governor.

Forty-eight years ago he was married in Cornwall, England, to the wife who survives him.

From that marriage three children survive, Mrs. Amy Klefman and Ernestine Frommelt of Washington and Mrs. Ralph Colclough of Sacramento.

Frommelt was a member of the Lutheran Church, but attended very seldom. He was a member of the Masonic Order for more than 40 years.

Last Monday his funeral was conducted by the Masons from the chapel of H. Nauman & Son in Sacramento, interment being in the Masonic cemetery.

The grandchildren surviving him are Ivey, Erna and Verna Klefman of Washington and Ralpha Colclough of Sacramento.

During the past week there hasn't been a single record published in Sacramento of the loss of a horse in a chuckhole of the public streets.

Things are improving.

Some men believe that women are becoming less beautiful.

Yet the other day during the '49 Celebration in Sacramento an old rone remarked, "Wasn't God good to make them so pretty?"

Last night the trustees of Lieut. Lansdale Post No. 67, V. F. W., entertained one of their number when George Klumpp, candidate for Coroner, was tendered a reception by the trustees of the Post.

A general good time was passed after the meeting and Klumpp was more than delighted at the spirit that prevailed.

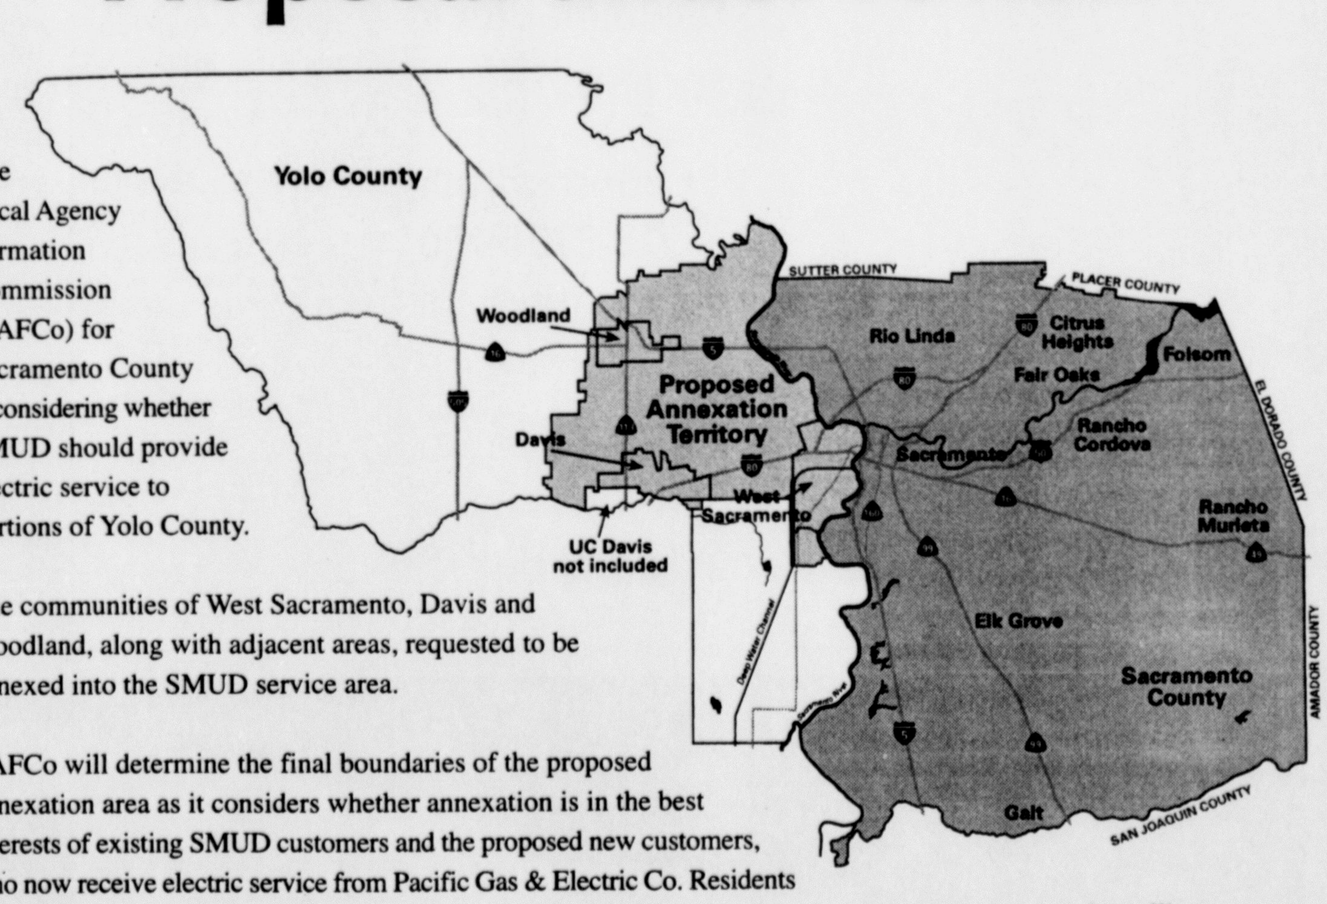
Annexation update: Proposal under review

The Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCo) for Sacramento County is considering whether SMUD should provide electric service to portions of Yolo County.



The communities of West Sacramento, Davis and Woodland, along with adjacent areas, requested to be annexed into the SMUD service area.

LAFCo will determine the final boundaries of the proposed annexation area as it considers whether annexation is in the best interests of existing SMUD customers and the proposed new customers, who now receive electric service from Pacific Gas & Electric Co. Residents or businesses near the boundary lines can find out if they are inside the proposed annexation area by calling SMUD toll free at 1-866-392-7683.

SMUD directors voted to proceed with the annexation process, adopting the following principles: Existing SMUD customers would not pay any costs of annexation and would see benefits from economies of scale, while Yolo customers would see an initial rate reduction of 2 percent compared with PG&E rates. SMUD studies indicate that the rate reduction for Yolo customers should increase after Yolo customers pay off the costs of annexation. SMUD's current rates are approximately 20 percent below PG&E rates.

LAFCo plans to issue a draft environmental impact report in late October, to be followed by public workshops.

To find out more about the proposed annexation, visit www.smud.org.

If you have questions for SMUD about annexation, call toll free: 1-866-392-7683.

Cheese and Produce Pairing

A Time-honored Match

A classic combination throughout the centuries, cheese and produce can compliment or contrast each other – in Europe, cheese is not found without its partner. Here are some favorite pairings:

- Aged Cheddar & (Tart) Apples
- Gorgonzola & Pears
- Parmigiano Reggiano & Figs

See our cheese specialists for more great ideas on how to enjoy cheese and produce!
